1. Introduction

The Economic Intelligence Unit (EIU) is pleased to present the 2025 Black Country Strategic Companies Barometer, offering a comprehensive assessment of the largest and most economically significant companies operating across the sub-region. These companies are key to economic prosperity, contributing significantly towards employment and productivity and reinforcing the Black Country's position as one of the UK's core industrial centres.

This publication illustrates the scale of the contribution of strategic companies to the sub-regional economy. Supporting these firms to remain rooted in the area and to continue growing is essential for sustaining economic vitality and community wellbeing. At the same time, the analysis recognises that the local business base is predominantly composed of smaller enterprises, with only a very small proportion operating at a larger scale. Section 2 provides a brief overview of the overall business base, while Section 3 presents the main strategic company analysis, including breakdowns of value and diversity.

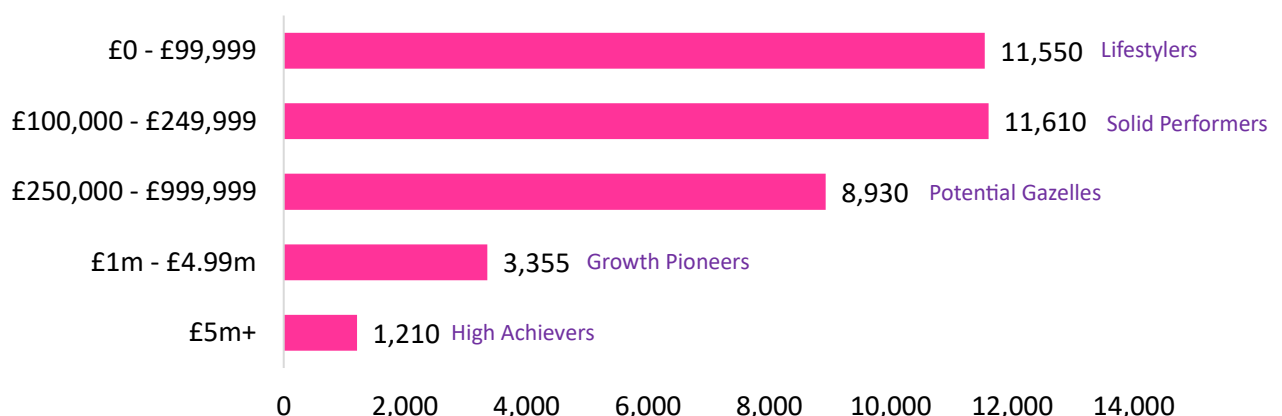

For the purposes of analysing strategic companies, The Data City has been used as it offers firm-level information that is not available through sources such as the ONS. Drawing on Companies House records and digital footprint analysis, the platform provides a more detailed view of business activities, emerging specialisms, and potential high-growth firms than conventional statistical sources can offer. However, several considerations are important when interpreting the outputs: coverage is shaped by the digital visibility of firms, modelled classifications may shift over time, and registered addresses do not always correspond to operational sites. The impact of these issues has been mitigated by triangulating data with official statistics and local intelligence, ensuring that analysis is robust.

2. Black Country Current Business Base

2.1 Turnover

- The Black Country is home to a diverse business base of 36,655 enterprises¹ as of November 2025. An enterprise can be thought of as the overall business, made up of all the individual sites or workplaces. It is defined as the smallest combination of legal units (generally based on VAT and / or PAYE records) that has a certain degree of autonomy within an enterprise group (ONS, 2025).
- These firms have been categorised into five groups based on their turnover band in the year up to March 2025:
 - There are 1,210 “High Achiever” companies in the Black Country - these firms have a turnover of more than £5 million a year and account for 3.3% of the business base.
 - “Growth Pioneers” are firms turning over £1m-£4.99m – 3,355 companies account for 9.2% of the local business base.
 - The 8,930 “Potential Gazelles” companies turning over £250k to £999k account for 24.4% of the business base.
 - The 11,610 SMEs with a turnover between £100k to £249k are classified as “Solid Performers” and account for 31.7% of the business base.
 - Firms turning over less than £100k are classed as “Lifestylers”, including micro enterprises, and there are 11,550 in the Black Country. This accounts for 31.5% of the total business base.

- Figure 2 shows the trend since 2014 in the number of enterprises in each turnover band. Each year there has been an increase in the number of enterprises with a turnover of over £5m (High Achievers) and in 2025 this reached 1,210, an increase of 41.5% (+355 companies) from the 855 recorded in 2014.
- The Potential Gazelles group saw the largest growth in the number of companies since 2014 in percentage terms, at +58.1% (+3,280 companies) reaching 8,930 in 2025.
- The Solid Performers business group saw the largest growth in real terms, at +47.4% (+3,735 companies) reaching 11,610 in 2025.
- The data also reinforces the importance of smaller companies at the heart of the local economy, but the dip since the 2022 peak in Lifestylers, reaching 15,265 and down to 11,550 in 2025 suggests challenges in business survival.

2.2 Employment

- 88.2% of enterprises employed between 0-9 people, which is slightly lower than the UK figure of 89.1%.
- Enterprises employing between 10-49 employees accounted for 9.7% of the Black Country base (UK: 8.8%).
- Medium-sized enterprises (50 - 249 employees) accounted for a larger proportion of Black Country businesses than the national average (1.7% vs 1.6%).

- There were 150 businesses with 250+ employees accounting for 0.4% of the Black Country base - equal to the national average.

3. Strategic Companies

The analysis in the following section is based on businesses that have been identified as a strategic company through The Data City platform. To be included in the analysis, a company must meet the following criteria:

- Turnover – minimum estimated turnover of £10m a year.
- Employees – minimum of 5 employees.
- Registered Address – company registered address must be in the Black Country (the four boroughs of Dudley, Sandwell, Walsall and Wolverhampton).

Through this process we have identified 450 companies that are included on the 2025 'Black Country Strategic Companies List'. Please see Appendix 1 for the full list of companies included in this analysis, their location, and sector. Figure 4 highlights the contribution of these companies to the Black Country Economy, this is explored further in the following sub-sections.

The analysis also considers the distribution of strategic companies across both the traditional Black Country sector framework and the Industrial Strategy 8 (IS8) sectors. Within the traditional framework, sectors are grouped into two categories:

1. The transformational sectors comprise those with the greatest potential to drive local economic growth through export activity, productivity improvements and supply chain development. These include advanced manufacturing, building technologies, transport technologies, business services and environmental technologies.
2. The enabling sectors play a critical role in supporting the wider economy and underpinning quality of life across the Black Country. Their performance influences the conditions required for growth within the transformational sectors. The enabling group includes retail, the visitor economy, and health and wellbeing.

3.1 Value to the Black Country Economy

- The strategic companies identified across the Black Country collectively generate an estimated £14.1 billion in Gross Value Added (GVA), reflecting their substantial contribution to both the national and international economy.
- Several firms exceed £500 million in GVA, including DPD, Carlsberg Marston's Brewing Company (CMBC), One Stop Stores Ltd, and A.F. Blakemore & Son.
- JLR remains the most significant individual contributor, generating just over £5 billion in GVA.

- Given their scale, productivity and supply-chain reach, the continued presence and growth of these companies within the Black Country is critical to the performance of the sub-regional economy. Supporting their competitiveness and investment plans will be essential to narrowing the £17.7 billion output gap and strengthening long-term economic resilience.

- All of the Black Country's strategic companies are concentrated within a defined set of transformational and enabling sectors. 331 firms (74%) operate within one of the five transformational sectors, with a further 119 companies (26%) active in enabling sectors.
- Strategic companies within the transformational sectors generate the largest share of output, contributing £11.54 billion, or 82% of total strategic company GVA.
- Within the transformational sectors, advanced manufacturing represents the most significant grouping, comprising 190 companies. These firms generate 66% of GVA within the transformational group and 54% of GVA across all strategic companies, highlighting the scale and economic importance of manufacturing-led activity in the sub-region.
- Among the enabling sectors, retail is the dominant contributor, accounting for 92% of firms and generating 95% of enabling-sector GVA (equivalent to 17% of total strategic company GVA). This reflects the presence of several major national retailers headquartered in the Black Country, alongside a wider base of regionally significant retail businesses.

- A total of 196 strategic companies (44%) have a presence in at least one of the Industrial Strategy 8 (IS8) sectors. Collectively, these firms generate £10.12 billion in turnover, contribute £2.99 billion in GVA, and employ 45,477 people, indicating their substantial role within the sub-regional economy.

² No strategic companies present in Public Sector, therefore it has been excluded from the above table.

- The Professional and Business Services IS8 sector accounts for the largest share of strategic company participation, representing 34% of all firms, followed by Advanced Manufacturing at 10%.
- Professional and Business Services is also the highest value-generating IS8 sector by a considerable margin, contributing nearly £8 billion in turnover and £2.45 billion in GVA, underscoring its importance to overall economic performance.

- The spatial distribution of strategic companies across the Black Country is relatively even. Sandwell accommodates 30% of all identified firms, followed by Dudley with 27%, Walsall with 22%, and Wolverhampton with 21%.

³.There are no strategic companies present in Defence sector, therefore it has been excluded from the analysis.

⁴ Please note that a company may fall within more than one IS8 sector. The totals in the table above avoids double-counting of businesses.

3.2 High Growth Companies

- A high growth company is defined, in line with the OECD methodology, as achieving an annualised average increase in turnover or employees of 20% or more over a three-year period, with the company starting the 3-year period with at least 10 employees. On this basis, 14 strategic companies across the Black Country meet the high-growth definition.
- These firms are distributed evenly across the sub-region, with the highest number located in Walsall (6 companies), followed by Dudley (3), Wolverhampton (3) and Sandwell (2). Sectorally, the largest concentration of high-growth companies is found in Building Technologies (5 companies), followed by Advanced Manufacturing (4), Retail (3) and Business Services (2).
- Collectively, the identified high-growth strategic companies employ 3,632 people (around 2% of all employment within the strategic company cohort), generate £951 million in turnover (2% of the total), and contribute £411 million in GVA (3% of the strategic company total). This illustrates that, while relatively small in number, high-growth firms make a meaningful contribution to economic output within the sub-region.

3.3 Founder / Director Demographics

- An assessment of the strategic company cohort indicates limited diversity among active founders and directors. Of the 134 businesses with identifiable active founders, 104 (78%) were solely-founded by a male, 10 (7%) were solely founded by a female, 18 (13%) were founded by a male-female duo, and 2 (1%) are unknown.
- A similar pattern is evident at board level: of 1,701 strategic company directors where gender data is available, 1,364 (80%) are male and 337 (20%) are female.
- Analysis of the top 100 strategic companies by turnover shows a broadly consistent distribution, reinforcing the overall trend of male-dominated leadership within the strategic business base.

Source: The Data City, November 2025

- Of the 3,300 strategic company directors for whom age data is available, very few are under 35, with only 2 aged 16–24 (0.1%) and 115 aged 25–34 (3%), indicating limited representation from younger leadership groups. Mid-career representation is higher, with 531 directors aged 35–44 (16%), although the overall profile remains weighted towards older cohorts.
- The largest concentrations are found in older age groups. Directors aged 45–54 represent 916 individuals (28%), while those aged 55–64 form the single largest cohort at 1,116 directors (34%).
- A further 407 directors (12%) are aged 65–74, and 188 (6%) are aged 75–84, with only small numbers continuing beyond this age. This distribution highlights a leadership base dominated by mid- to late-career individuals, with relatively few younger directors entering senior roles.

Source: The Data City, November 2025

- Of the 3,292 strategic company directors for whom nationality data is available, the overwhelming majority are British, with 3,004 individuals (91%) identifying as British. This reflects a highly domestic leadership base with limited international representation across strategic companies.
- Non-UK nationalities account for only a small share of directors, with most individual nationalities representing 1% or less of the total. The largest non-British groups include American (43 directors), French (35), Irish (33), Italian (22), German (19) and Swedish (17), each comprising only a marginal proportion of overall leadership.

3.4 International Ownership and Trade

- The majority of strategic companies are ultimately owned by UK-based parent organisations, with 236 firms falling into this category.
- The United States represents the next most common source of ultimate ownership, accounting for 22 companies, followed by a range of predominantly European parent organisations.
- The findings suggest that while domestic ownership remains dominant, international investment continues to play an important role within the business base.

Source: The Data City, November 2025

- Data from The Data City indicates that the Black Country has a significant cohort of strategic companies engaged in global trade, with 240 firms involved in import activity and 218 in export activity.
- Sandwell and Dudley account for the largest concentrations, reflecting their strong industrial footprints and established supply-chain networks. Sandwell has 85 strategic companies that import and 78 exporters, the highest in the sub-region, while Dudley contains 72 import-active and 63 export-active strategic companies. This distribution aligns closely with the area's wider manufacturing-led economic structure.
- Wolverhampton also has a sizeable group of internationally engaged strategic companies, with 51 importers and 47 exporters, reinforcing its position as a key export hub within the Black Country economy.

- Walsall, while home to a smaller number of these firms (32 importers and 30 exporters), still contributes meaningfully to the region's trade activity, consistent with its strong manufacturing base.

Steel & Alloy Processing Ltd is a leading UK steel processor and supplier based in Sandwell, specialising in the provision of slit coil, blanked sheet and precision steel products for the automotive, manufacturing and engineering sectors. The company operates as part of the larger Steel & Alloy Group, supplying high-quality, value-added steel materials to major automotive OEMs and Tier 1 suppliers across the UK. With advanced processing lines and a strong reputation for technical capability, the business plays a key role in supporting domestic vehicle production and associated supply chains.

The Sandwell facility serves as a core processing and distribution hub, providing coil slitting, decoiling and metal forming services supported by modern equipment and stringent quality standards. As a significant employer within Sandwell's metals and automotive manufacturing cluster, Steel & Alloy Processing Ltd contributes materially to the Black Country's industrial base and its wider advanced manufacturing ecosystem.
